Alberta Health Services (AHS) Emergency Medical Services (EMS) is committed to providing high quality and safe patient care. AHS EMS has developed this set of Medical First Response (MFR), Medical Control Protocols (MCPs). The MCPs contain best standard practice taken from evidence and expert informed care and treatment information that is specifically intended for the use of medical first responders in Alberta and the physicians who provide medical oversight for these agencies. EMS reserves the right at its own discretion to make changes, including the correction of errors and complete revisions to the MCPs.

At the same time, the information is presented “as is” and its use by external organizations or individuals is solely at their own risk. AHS EMS, its employees and physicians accepts no responsibility for any modification or redistribution or use of the MCPs and is not liable for any actions taken by individuals based on the information provided, or for any inaccuracies, errors or omissions in these MCPs.

2021 Alberta Health Services – All rights reserved in relation to these MCPs. Without limiting the reservation of copyright, no person shall reproduce, store in a retrieval system or transmit in any form or by any means (electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise) part or the whole of these MCPs without the prior written permission of Alberta Health Services.

Please note that AHS does not retain any liability for the external use of these MCPs or their maintenance outside of the MFR Program. The written protocols have been made available for viewing by the public. It is assumed that your use will be to enhance the care you provide and is not for resale or redistribution purposes.

Be advised that these MCP’s will continue to be reviewed and updated at regular intervals to ensure that they meet the above standards.

The Alberta MFR Program continues to support agency partners who voluntarily respond to medical emergencies in their community. By providing medical oversight, patient care guidelines, training opportunities, collection of patient care records and collaborative response plan design, participating agencies can be assured that medical first responders are well prepared to assist Albertans.

Alberta Health Services values the important work that MFR partner agencies and first responders provide in their communities and the support they offer to frontline emergency medical services.
